

Young Toddlers
December, 2008

Using our fine motor muscles and dexterity to place each candle into the little holes of the menorah.

We have been playing the dreidle game while learning our colors. Each side of the dreidle is a decorated with a different color so when the dreidle stops and falls to one side we can see the color and hear what it is called. Then together with our daddies we made our own colorful decorated dreidle that we can spin and play.

Tissue paper is a new art medium we used to make decorations. Then we placed our picture menorahs by the window to decorate our class for the holiday.

It is snowing!
Something was happening outside. We all went to the window to watch and talk about what was happening. We were excited.
Then...
Outside we saw snow everywhere. Falling down all around on the ground and on the slide.
